Positive Supports Defined (DHS Positive Supports Page)

Refers to all practices that include the following characteristics:

- 1) Person- centered interventions that demonstrate cultural competence and respect for human dignity
- 2) Evidence- based and promising practices
- 3) Include strategies for ongoing assessment and monitoring at individual and organizational levels
- 4) Are often implemented in combination with more than one practice

Examples of Positive Support Strategies

- Person- centered thinking/ planning- foundational values
- Positive behavior support
- Applied behavior analysis
- Assertive community treatment
- Cognitive behavior therapy
- Dialectical behavior therapy
- Motivational interviewing
- Wraparound planning/ Systems of care
- Trauma informed practices
- School- linked mental health

Overview of Positive Behavior Support

Example of Action Planning for DSP Training: Positive Behavior Support

A Note About the Word “Behavior”

- Everyone engages in behaviors that
 - Interfere with quality of life
 - Can result in injury to self or others
- When challenges become intense and chronic the goal is to help a child or adult problem solve
- Transitions in life vary and can result in increases or decreases in challenging behavior
- Our goal is to prevent challenges by helping people live their best lives and develop skills for coping with problems when they arise

Key Elements of Positive Behavior Support

Positive behavior support is the integration of...

- Valued outcomes
- behavioral and biomedical science
- Validated procedures
- Systems of change
- In order to enhance quality of life and prevent challenging behavior

Implementing Three Tiered Positive Behavior Support Framework

Zoom Poll

How familiar are you with different positive behavior support?

Implement Universal Positive Behavior Support

Teach, prompt, and model social and emotional skills

Reinforce and celebrate positive skills in use

Create a consistent response when challenges occur

Use data to reflect on progress

Positive Behavior Support Provides a Framework for Prevention

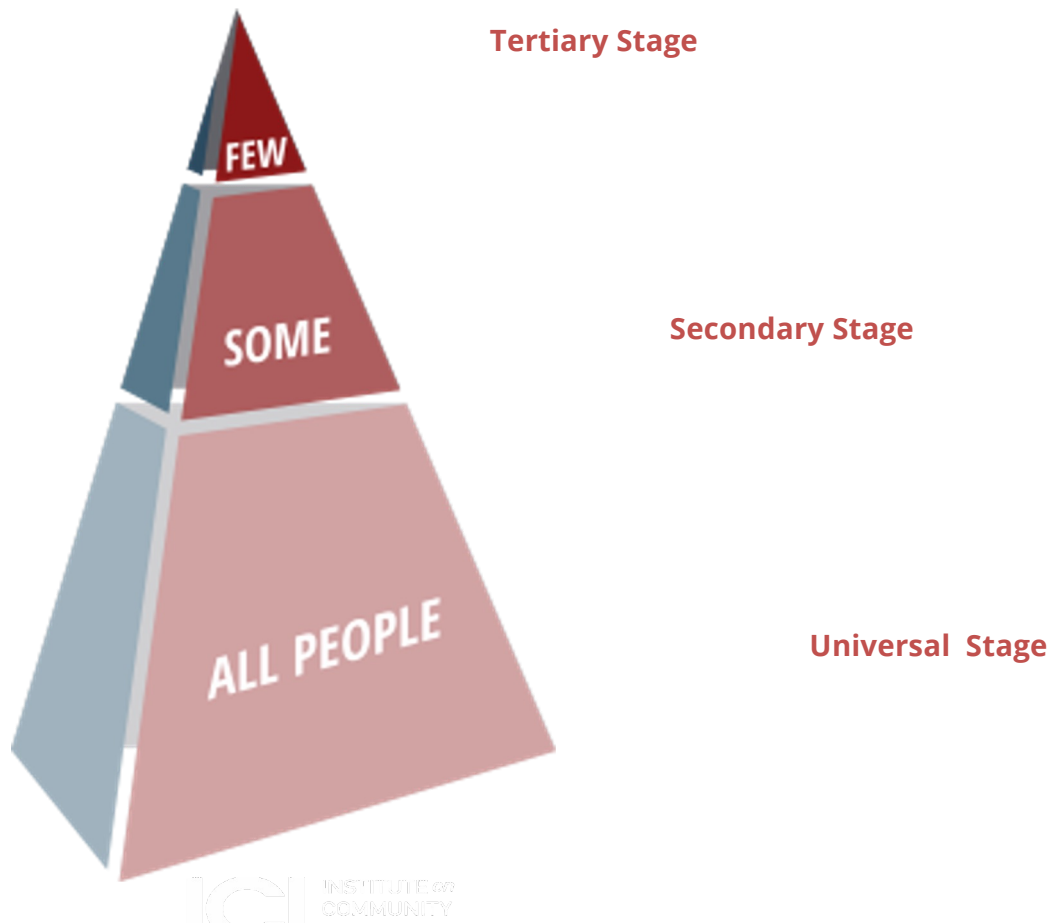

Focus First on Universal Positive Behavior Support

- Work together to create a plan
- Prompt, teach, & encourage positive social interactions
- Practice new social skills
- Reinforce, recognize, & celebrate success
- Consistent responses to challenging social interactions
- Early prevention and monitoring

Build positive social settings where everyone practices and celebrates social skills that are important

Implementing Positive Behavior Support

Implementing Multi- Tiered Systems of Support

Tertiary Stage

- Individualized plans
- Integrated with other Positive Supports
- Plans are monitored- Data- based decision making
- Teams monitor progress of each person

Secondary Stage

- Early intervention and data monitoring
- Additional supports for key social skills
- Function- based decisions
- Simple interventions
- Mental health and wellness interventions

Universal Stage

- Teach and encourage communication
- Predictable and proactive settings
- Encourage and reinforce social skills
- Consensus- based team focus
- Emphasis on using data for decisions

Roommates Creating Values Together

	Cleaning	Meal Prep	Cleaning up After Dinner	Grocery Shopping
Respect	Get chores done on time, before dinner	Say, "thank you". Offer each other compliments on good food.	Honor each other's process, but keep up the timeline.	Tell the other person if you are not going grocery shopping. Watch for other people's feet while driving the cart. Be OK with what the other person picks out.
Kindness	Say, "thank you" or, "that looks good".	Assist each other in looking up new recipes on the tablet.	Ask if help is needed	Learn how to make the grocery list. Do the grocery list together. Pick-up something your roommate might like.
Helpfulness	Maybe get a kudos board. Offer to bring supplies if needed.	Offer to teach each other cooking skills	Rinse your plate. Clear your dishes. Put away someone else's dishes.	Help carry the groceries in from the car. Help make the list.
Communication	Look at the calendar so you don't have to remind each other. Let your great work speak for itself (No need to talk about what you did)	Look at calendar to know what is going on. Learn the likes and dislikes of each other. Ask the likes and dislikes of each other.	Tell each other if you need to switch days.	Tell your roommate if you are not going shopping. Look at the calendar to see whose day it is.

Create a simple skills training plan that includes....

- Skill to be taught
- How to observe the behavior
- Routine or setting
- How to prepare
- Examples and nonexamples of what this value looks like

Person-Centered Positive Behavior Support Skill Building Plan Template (Complex Verbal Communication Involved) Example from a home shared by roommates. Matrix: Roommates who live together.
Getting Ready for Using the Skill Building Plan
Value Selected for the Skill Building Plan: (Value from Matrix): Helpfulness
Routine or Setting Selected for Learning and Practicing: Dinner routine, cleaning up after dinner Behavior Definition(s) Addressed (from Matrix) Observable actions include: (what does it look like, sound like, feel like) Rinse your plate. Clear your dishes. Put away someone else's dishes.
Goals Supported: Circle the level of support and write in the specific goal below.
Universal	Secondary	Tertiary
Tier 1	Tier 2	Tier 3
Goal being supported: This plan supports the universal goals and values identified by the roommates in this home.
Preparing for the Training:
Decide how to share the training: Group or individual, when including time and place, and where. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Group (both roommates), in the kitchen and eat in area, in the home.
Who will participate in the training (list people involved) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • DSPs in evening shift, roommates
What materials are needed to complete the training: (include recommendations for assistive technology or other accommodation or equipment needed) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Skill Building Guide (printed so DSP or facilitator has the guide to read from) • Roommate matrix to review during the lesson (use the matrix that is posted in the kitchen as a visual to refer to during the discussion) • Paper and writing utensil: To write down • Accommodation for practice/ role play: Table set with meal items like plates, cups, and silverware.
Time allocated: 20- 30 minutes

Create a simple skills training plan that includes....

- Skill to be taught
- How to observe the behavior
- Routine or setting
- How to prepare
- Examples and nonexamples of what this value looks like
- Scripted procedures for using the plan

Identify examples and non-examples (these will be used during the Modeling/Show section of the resource guide)

Examples	Non-Examples
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Rinse your plate in the right spot (garbage or garbage disposal) • Clear your dishes from the table and put into the sink or dishwasher • Offer to put away someone else's dishes 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Leave lots of food on your plate • Leave dirty dishes on the table • Put away only your dishes

Using the Skill Building Plan

Skill Building = Introducing and Explaining + Showing + Practicing + Feedback + Revisiting

Introduce and Explain: (this should be a brief opener to the lesson) This component provides the what and why.

What is the skill? Helpfulness during cleanup after dinner.

1. Present the skill and where it is to be used. "Today we are going to talk about Helpfulness during cleanup after dinner in our home."
2. Ask the person what the skill means to them. "What does Helpfulness during cleanup after dinner mean in our home, what does this look like for you?"
3. Provide positive feedback for responses that illustrate the value and skills. (see Examples) "You all came up with some really good ideas on how to use the skill Helpfulness during cleanup after dinner and what that means in our home."
4. Redirect responses that don't align with the values and skills in the matrix. (see Non-Examples) "Thank you for your idea. You identified (insert wording from the Examples) as ways to be helpful during the cleanup after dinner."

How can these skills be helpful in other areas of life?

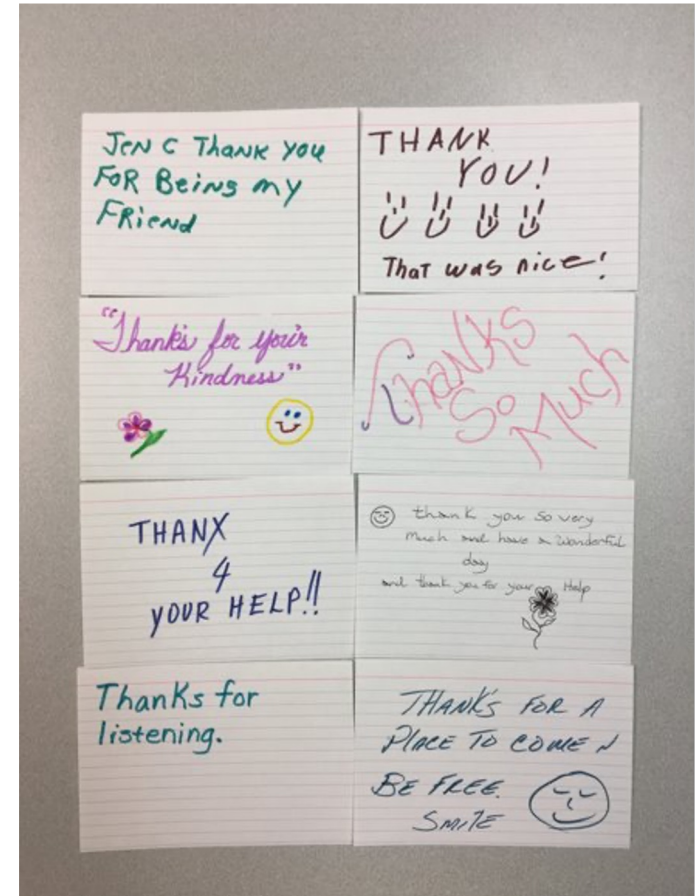

1. Discuss where these skills would also be helpful: "The examples of helpfulness around cleaning up after dinner could also be helpful outside of the home. For example, when you are visiting family, you can use clear your dishes from the table or offer to put away others dishes in order to be helpful with your family."
2. Ask if the person can think of any other places this skill would be helpful. "Are there other places where you think being helpful during cleanup after dinner would be helpful?"
3. Provide positive feedback or redirect comments back to examples.

Celebrating Progress Together

Each time a behavior is observed
Write down the behavior on a strip of paper
Create a paper chain
Placed in the living room
When the chain reaches across the wall we celebrate
Choose how to celebrate success

Getting Started with a Training Plan

Types of Training to Consider.....

- New staff training
- Ongoing training days
- Adding content to staff meetings
- Self-learning options
- Ongoing coaching and mentoring

Questions to Consider...

- Do you want to add a few elements or revise training completely?
- Have you created ongoing learning opportunities after a positive support training?
- Make a list of things you want staff to learn about that they can do during quiet times at work
- Do you have veteran staff who can coach others?

Getting Started Tailoring the Plan

Step 1: Go to MNPSP.ORG

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Positive Supports Minnesota website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Overview, Publications, Staffing, and Events. Below this is the website's logo and a search bar. The main content area features a large illustration of diverse people in various poses, colored in shades of green and yellow. Below the illustration, the text reads "Home" and "Welcome to Minnesota Positive Supports Website". The page is divided into three columns of content. The first column, titled "This website is for:", lists several user groups with checkmarks next to each: Mental health providers, Disability services providers, Social Workers, Educators, Anyone in the helping profession, You are a person receiving services, and A parent or a loved one of a person receiving services. The second column, titled "All people want to be respected, have choices, and feel safe.", contains a paragraph about positive supports as proven strategies and a section for "Whether someone is receiving mental health, housing, educational, disability, or any other services meant to improve a person's life, positive supports:" followed by two bullet points: "Build on a person's unique strengths, assets, interests, expectations, cultures, and goals," and "Respect the rights and individuality of each person, and". The third column contains sections for "Recent Events and Presentations", "Upcoming Event" (with a link to "Register for 2019 AAIDD Annual Conference June 24-27 in Minnesota"), and "Opportunity for Minnesota Families" (with a link to "An online opportunity is now available for families").

What do you Need....

Positive Social Strategies Self-Assessment Checklist

Name: _____

Date of Interaction: _____

Other Person(s) Involved: _____

Review this checklist before communicating with others to increase your awareness of positive social strategies that can be used. Reflect on your actions after talking with another person. Make a check mark next to each type of social strategy that you used during this interaction.

- Active Listening-Active listening is a process of focusing your attention on the person in a way that supports his or her ability to communicate. Behaviors include both language and non-language based communication.
- Paraphrasing What a Person Says - Reflecting what you have heard someone say in your own words.
- Nonjudgmental Statements –Verbal and body language used describes what you observe is happening but does not criticize or imply judgment.
- Use of Universal Tools to Support Discovery and Exploration -Inquiring with open-ended questions about a person’s life, interests, goals, wants, and needs across domains of life (home, community, relationships, work, etc.), and using answers to questions to generate novel branches/directions in conversation. Includes natural use of person0centered thinking tools within conversation.
- Demonstrating Empathy Toward Others - Actions that show you understand and share the emotions and feelings of another person.
- Encouraging People to Connect With Others - support people in joining in conversations, sharing information, and joining activities during meetings or activities.
- Working With People in Collaboration - Helping people achieve their goals in a way that Example from This Year....

- Teams implementing are being recognized by the state
- Video messages for each team receiving an award
- Small items to recognize staff for working hard related to person-centered positive supports

Join a Community of People Sharing Ideas and Resources...

- Cohorts tend to become part of regional networks
- Training events and opportunities are available for free
- Organizations often share resources to decrease costs

Teams Implementing Person-Centered Positive Supports

- Report decreases in staff attrition after starting the process
- Decreases in workers compensation costs
- People report increases in person-centered supports

Decreases in costs occur because of these positive outcomes

“I think we forget as adults, just ‘cause we’re adults...we still like to know that people see that we’re doing something good.” Interview with mental health professional

Identify the Area the Team Will Start Building Positive Social Interactions- Mental Health Clubhouse Example

- Created a matrix as a guide and shared
- Who was involved:
 - 28 people use the clubhouse
 - 2 staff members
 - 4 coaches attended
- Coaches organized into 4 groups and facilitated each group
- Coaches started by facilitating what works and what doesn't work at the clubhouse
- Group identified times of day that are important
- Groups shared results and then identified what person- centered values & social behaviors are in place when clubhouse works well
- Next steps
 - How to practice and celebrate success
 - Creating visuals in the clubhouse as reminders
 - Establish a monthly value that receives attention, practice, etc.
